

A Pacific Veteran

PVT. ELDRIDGE BELL

Pvt. Eldridge (Red) Bell, now 22, is serving with the American army somewhere in the Pacific and may be in the thick of things in the Philippines.

Pvt. Bell in high school days here was a star backfield man and won his way to recognition in the golden gloves tournaments. Later when he went to New York and while serving in the merchant marine he fought many ring battles in the big city and on the side worked in a defense plant.

Bell was middleweight champion in the camps and now Uncle Sam has a real fighting man who is sparring for a knockout of the Japs. He was with the forces that invaded New Guinea. He has been in that area since February. He spent some time in Iceland before going to his assignment in the Pacific.

Pvt. Bell has two brothers in the service. They are Sgt. Vernon Bell now fighting in Holland; and Pvt. E. B. Bell now in Mississippi.

Pvt. Bell is the son of W. J. Bell of Cameron. A sister Mrs. Ralph Fikes lives in Cameron and another sister Miss Lillian Bell lives in New York.

Coach Young Says Kangaroos Outclass The Taylor Ducks

Coach Dick Young, spectator at Killeen-Taylor game Friday night in Taylor told The Herald early Saturday there was never any doubt over the outcome of the game. From the kickoff it was apparent the Ducks were beaten and District 31-A would have a new champion.

"The Kangaroos would not be denied," said Coach Young, "and from the beginning there was no doubt who would win."

The game was played in the mud. Skies cleared and it was on ideal night for spectators.

"Of course Taylor had to play minus Struska but even though he had been able to play I am convinced the results would have been the same. The Killeen backfield was the whole story. Gayle Tolliver, as Captain and quarterback called a superb game. Locklear, Arnold and Baker are a combination which is something like the answer to a Coach's dream. The Kangaroos ran from their close punt formation behind good line play and scored two quick touchdowns. That was the ball game. The punting of Tolliver kept the Ducks in the shadow of their own goal much of the game and as I saw it the Ducks never so much as threatened to win. Mostly it was line play and that is where the Kangaroo backfield made the difference."

Coach Young thinks it is unusual for a district to put out two teams like Taylor and Killeen and although his Yoemen failed he still has reason to be proud of their season play.

Coach Young thinks Killeen will be able to dispose of Fredericksberg in the bi-district since Taylor beat them by a top heavy score. In the Regional the Kangaroos will have to meet either Gatesville or Mexia. Carroll Wood, former coach here, coaches Mexia and has yet to play Gatesville. Thursday night Gatesville beat McGregor 25 to 6. Killeen defeated Gatesville early in the season. The Kangaroos are undefeated.

Life Span Increases

KANGAROOS OVERPOWER DUCKS IN MUD BATTLE

Taylor, Nov. 24.—The hard-hitting Killeen Kangaroos knocked the king from his throne tonight and broke the seven-year monopoly of the Taylor Ducks on the District 31-A football championship, winning a hard-fought battle in the mud, 14 to 6.

Frank Struska, Taylor backfield star who received a fractured skull in the Georgetown game, was brought to the field in an ambulance and saw the game from a stretcher.

Although it had rained most of the day, no rain fell during the game, although the field was quagmire. The Kangaroos were hot in the first half and piled up a 14 point advantage the Ducks never could overcome. Every Taylor offensive threat in the first half was stopped cold.

Gayle Tolliver, whose booming punts with a soggy ball kept Taylor on its heels all night, gained on an exchange in the first period that put the Ducks in the shadow of their own goal line. A bad Taylor kick went out to the 20, and three plays later Jack Locklear plunged over from the one yard line. Tolliver made a perfect conversion from placement.

On the second play of the second quarter, Killeen's 135 pound seat back, Wayne Arnold, shot off tackle from his own 38 and ran 62 yards for a touchdown, outrunning three Taylor Ducks down the sidelines. Again Tolliver kicked it surely between the uprights.

In the third, Taylor started a wide-open attack that finally got to clicking. The Ducks recovered a fumble on the Killeen 38 after several punt exchanges near the end of the third quarter. Early in the fourth, Floyd Sanders, the Taylor star of the evening, sparked a drive that carried to the 10 yard line.

Sanders passed to Pierce on the one yard line and then hit the line twice to score. He failed to run the extra point.

In the entire last half, Killeen couldn't get moving again. With no first downs in the last two periods to its credit, the Kangaroos were behind on total first downs, 7 to 3.

Coach Leo Buckley's charges defeated a Taylor team that has been almost unbeatable for seven years, during which time it had never failed to win the district title until tonight.

Outstanding for Killeen were Tolliver, Locklear, Arnold and Baker in the backfield, and Henderson end, and Ricketts and Stansell, guards, in the line.

Juan Gonzales, 21, and Valentine Correa, 19, were instantly killed at 8:40 p.m. Wednesday when their car, a pickup, was crashed by a north bound Southern Pacific passenger train at the crossing on the Salem road.

The impact rolled the pickup some 400 feet along the track and the bodies of the two men were badly mangled.

Parma Moves Radio Shop to New Home

Parma's Radio Shop, for years an outstanding service to radio owners, has been moved to its new home in the building now shared by the Selective Service Board.

The shop is a busy center and friends congratulate him on his success.

PVT. HENRY EISELDT HERO, IS DECORATED

Private First Class Henry J. Eiseltd of Cameron, recently was awarded the Silver Star and the Bronze Star while serving with Lt. General Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army in Italy.

Eiseltd, member of a rifle company of the 91st "Wild West" Division, received his Silver Star for personal courage and heroism in the face of overwhelming odds in action.

When it was reported that an enemy machine gun prevented litter bearers from evacuating wounded, Eiseltd and another soldier volunteered to knock out the German position. Working their way to the position, they discovered it was more strongly defended than reported. However, they assaulted the position and in the ensuing action Eiseltd killed five Germans and captured the machine gun.

The 27 year old Cameron soldier was awarded the Bronze Star for a later action in which he risked his life three times in an attempt to persuade a German pillbox to surrender. When the Germans refused he led a squad that reduced the fortification.

Eiseltd, who lives at 806 West 3rd Street, Cameron, entered the Army in April, 1942.

CORDELL HULL QUILTS SECRETARY STATE POST

Washington—A high government source said Monday that Secretary of State Hull has submitted his resignation because of ill health, and the indications are President Roosevelt will accept it.

This government official, who could not be quoted by name, said that the veteran secretary of state, who is ill in the navy hospital at Bethesda, Md., had decided to step out of his official position because of his health.

His current illness was not described as serious, but was reported such that he is expected to take a lengthy rest.

There was immediate speculation that if the President accepts Hull's resignation, the choice of his successor may lie among War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, Vice President Henry A. Wallace, or undersecretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

SUPERFORTS MAKE TWIN ATTACKS ON JAPANESE

America's mighty Superfortresses launched their first coordinated attacks against Japan from widely separated bases Monday, lashing Tokyo war industries for the second time in four days and simultaneously hitting Nippon's Southeast Asia rail transportation hub in Thailand.

None of the sky giants was lost, the B-29 bomber commands reported, as they swept over their targets in broad daylight under only light Japanese opposition.

As news of the twin blows against Nippon territory reached the United States, Adm. Chester Nimitz, in a communique revising previous reports of a Third fleet carrier plane strike on the Manila bay area, said at least 48 Japanese ships were sunk or damaged, adding two ships sunk and 23 damaged to the original score.

This report on the Philippine strike last Friday brought to 151 the total of Nippon ships sunk or damaged during November in the Manila bay region alone. Fighters and ack-ack from U. S. surface ships downed 58 Jap planes, while 29 more were destroyed on the ground.

FRENCH ARMIES IN RAPID RHINE ADVANCE

Fierce and bloody battles were raging in a sea of mud and foul weather along the Western front as German spokesman warned the people that the allied attacks must not be underestimated.

No air support was possible because of weather.

The French Second army was rolling up fast to the outskirts of Strausburg and fanning out over the planes west of the city. The American 7th Army was within 15 miles of Strausburg. The French First Army was driving hard north of the Rhine river.

General George Patton's Third American army had driven to within 15 miles of Saarbrücken and had joined up with some units of the American 7th. Fighting was desperate.

The Red army was making steady progress.

Over in the Philippines General MacArthur's airmen had destroyed a new Jap attempt to land forces and supplies.

From the Texas Veteran, official publication of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of Texas, we quote the following poem in support of the 6th War Loan:

Is there one among us,
After what he has read,
How our men have suffered
While they have fought and bled.
While they are fighting for freedom,
And to protect our happy land.
Who can now only say "I'm sorry,"
And does not lend a hand?
You should not only say I'm sorry
For those who have gone beyond,
But for those who are still fighting,
GO BUY THAT EXTRA BOND!

Roasting Meat by Low Temperature Is Favored

A saving of as much as one-third in the amount of meat needed to feed a given number of men may be effected through low-temperature roasting, the war department announced in making public the results of tests recently completed by the office of the quartermaster general.

In addition, low cooking temperatures cause the meats to retain their vitamins, juices and natural flavors more completely than cooking at higher temperatures, and more even cooking of roasts is assured, according to the quartermaster corps' menu planning section, subsistence division, which conducted the tests. This last-named factor is particularly important in roasting of pork, it was pointed out.

Evenly-cooked roasts are easier to slice, the tests showed, and the fats which are cooked out are not burned, thus remaining in good condition for use in the preparation of other foods. Utensils are easier to clean after low-temperature cooking, since the juices which cook out do not burn hard to the pots and pans.

Some of the other benefits which the housewife can enjoy from the quartermaster recommended method of preparing her roasts of beef, pork or lamb, as proven by actual tests, are cleaner ovens, since the fat does not "pop" out as much; less fuel required; less heat given off by the range, making for a cooler kitchen and less evaporation of watery parts of the pan drippings, thus retaining the vitamins and flavor, the department said.

Yanks Rig Up Floodlights For Tropical Night-Ball

How Yank ingenuity made night baseball possible in the heart of the New Guinea jungles has been revealed by sportswriter Lou O'Neill in the Long Island Daily Star.

Taking advantage of widespread interest in the game, anti-aircraft battalions of the area formed a league. A field was cleared within four days, with subsequent improvements, and one of the team describes it as "almost as good as the diamonds back home."

All the day games scheduled could not be worked in, so the only solution was to provide enough light for night-ball. Putting to work the materials and equipment available, the boys made 12 coconut trees into poles 50 feet high and installed them around the field. They then placed 60-inch arc searchlights of the 800,000,000 candlepower variety used in anti-aircraft defense 12 feet from the bottom of the poles. They directed the light upward on white board reflectors 20 feet square and mounted at the tops of the poles. Four 750-watt floodlights supplement the illumination around home plate.

Swiss Peaks

Tallest peak in Switzerland is Monte Rosa 15,216 feet high on the Italian border. A third as high are the limestone ridges of the Jura ranges in the west.

Between these two great mountain chains is the rolling floor of the country, dotted with towns, glazed with lakes, crisscrossed with roads and railways. This midland area occupies about one-fourth of Switzerland; the rest reaches toward the sky.

The rugged backbones of the mountain ranges feed international rivers. Main systems beginning in Switzerland are the Rhine and the Rhone. From the Gotthard range southward flows the Ticino to meet Italy's Po; the Inn sweeps northeast through Austria to join the Danube. The Aare rises in central Switzerland and winds northwest through mountain lakes past Bern, then northeast to join the Rhine.

Value of Soap

The value of a soap depends upon the character and quality of the fat used in its manufacture, the way the ingredients are mixed and handled, the foreign materials added, and upon so regulating the amount of fat and lye that there is an excess of neither. Too large a proportion of fat produces a soap that feels greasy and leaves traces of fat on the clothes. This is rarely true of commercial brands, but sometimes is of homemade soaps. An excess of lye produces what is called a "strong soap," and one that is likely to weaken cloth and injure the hands. When this is not the case the soap is called "neutral." The large variety of soaps on the market differ in all these ways, but chiefly in the water content and in the materials added to increase their value as cleansers, to act as water softeners, to cheapen them, or give them special properties.

Soybean Hay

Soybean hay, when properly handled, compares favorably with alfalfa in total protein and mineral content, according to H. J. Snider, assistant chief, soil experiment fields, University of Illinois college of agriculture. "Averages of a large number of tests showed that a ton of dry soybean hay contained 272 pounds of protein and 64 pounds of essential minerals. A ton of alfalfa hay contained 344 pounds of protein and 74 pounds of essential minerals. These averages are for hay from various parts of Illinois. The soybeans were cut for hay when the leaves were still green and the pods well filled," Snider reported.

EISENHOWER ISSUES FORMULA FOR VICTORY

To crush Germany General Eisenhower Tuesday issued his formula.

Increased pressure on all fronts, complete co-operation on the battle front and on the home front, said the General who added that more supplies must be produced and delivered to the fighting men. There must be no let down.

"To get peace we have got to fight like hell, now let's do it," concluded the General.

General Eisenhower praised the First French army for its capture of the Belfort Gap and advance to the Rhine. The French were advancing rapidly again Tuesday. Only scattered opposition was encountered in Metz.

General George Patton's third army operating west of the French had projected a great pincer movement for Saarbrücken.

The Germans were in disorderly retreat on all fronts except north of Aachen.

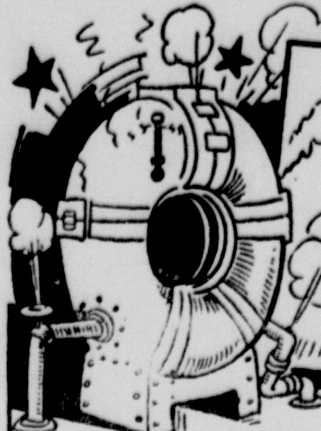

More than 11 hundred heavy allied bombers and 12 hundred lighter craft blasted German's oil depots. The Japanese home land has been blasted by from 70 to 80 bombers of the B-29 class.

THANKSGIVING WILL BE OBSERVED NOV. 30

Thanksgiving in 1944 will be observed on Thursday, November 30th in Cameron.

Officially Thanksgiving was proclaimed by the President for November 23. Rural mail was not delivered Thursday. Postmaster Hays said employees in the office will be given their holiday on November 30, since the remainder of the city will observe that day. Rural mail will be delivered on November 30.

Cameron banks will be closed on November 30. Merchants throughout the city will observe November 30.

BEN ARNOLD SCORES

A partial report was received by Dan Tyson, county War Finance Chairman at noon Thursday from Ben Arnold and the amount was $2,200 in the 6th War Loan drive.

Jesse Warren of Buckholts is in Newton Memorial Hospital recovering from a tonsil operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall Massey of Yarellton were business visitors in Cameron Thursday.

Pasteurized Butter

Creamery butter, made from pasteurized cream, is often packed in tubs or the familiar pound prints and stored at zero for six months or longer. Homemade butter churned from unpasteurized sour cream would probably have an undesirable flavor after a few weeks' storage in a unit. Butter made from sweet cream will keep better than that made from sour cream; it will keep still better if made from pasteurized sweet cream.

John Senkel, who has been ill in the Newton Memorial Hospital is able to return home.

Dusting Plane Wings

So important is wing-surface smoothness in fast fighter planes that it has been seriously suggested they be wiped free of dust and other small particles by service crews before each take-off. Some idea of the toll taken by any departure from smooth-as-ice surfaces may be had from the Langley field report that a transport flying at 225 miles per hour spends 180 horsepower pulling rivet heads and lap joints through the air.

Mrs. Mamie Dragoo of Liberty was a Cameron visitor in Cameron Monday.

"Sensational" Is Word For "1945 Sensations"

Andrew Stone's new musical "Sensations of 1945" which makes its debut at the Cameron Theatre Thursday and Friday has everything one would want from a musical—and more. It has a splendid cast headed by Eleanor Powell (Miss Taps, herself,) with Dennis O'Keefe, W. C. Fields C. Aubrey Smith Sophie Tucker Eugene Pallette Mimi Forsythe David Lichine in solid supporting roles. It has two of the top swing bands in the country, Woody Herman and his hi-de-ho-ness of swing, Cab Calloway. It has some of the finest circus acts in the entire world and it has 9 of the snappiest, gayest tunes of foot-loose jitterbug ever shook a foot to. Besides all of these attributes it had one we give special mention—girls, girls, girls!

Mr. Stone, who apparently has his finger strategically planted on the public pulse has produced a film that sparkles with all of the "escapist" funning any audience could possibly desire. With a combination like W. C. Fields, Eugene Pallette and Sophie

Tucker giving out with their imitable routines need we expound? Unlike the average or "spectacle" musical "Sensations" boasts a top notch plot written by Frederick Jackson a writer of more than a score of hit musical comedies.

HOYTE CLUB MEETING

The Hoyte Demonstration Club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. W. D. Favor with Mrs. James Elrod as co-hostess.

A fruit cake canning demonstration was given by Miss Cook; 34 pounds of fruit cake being canned.

Miss Cook says "You can use your own favorite fruit cake recipe, but it is best not to use baking powder and very little soda." You may line your cans with waxed paper or grease them. After mixing your fruit cake fill within one inch of top of number 2 cans and tie wax paper over the top. Put enough water in the cooker to come within two inches of top of cans, put lid on cooker and steam 75 minutes with pet cook open. Next, take out cans, remove paper, seal and process at 10 pound pressure for 30 minutes. Take cans out and cool in water. The cake is moist and every delicious besides having three advantages over baked cake; first by canning we may have fruit cake all year, second it saves fuel and time, and third it makes a most welcome gift for the boys in service, especially those overseas.

Club members present were: Mesdames Virgil Coward, Earl Angell, Frank Hanel, John McLerran, James Elrod and W. D. Favor. Visitors were Mesdames Adolph Hanel, Pete Mikula, M. A. Hearn, Joe Mishcikil and Sallie Isham.

The next meeting will be a Christmas Council party in Rockdale, Dec. 7th.

Floor Stains

Those black marks made on waxed floors by wartime heels and soles can be removed with wax, turpentine or cleaning fluid such as carbon tetrachloride, according to Miss Dorothy J. Iwig, home furnishings specialist, University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Rub the mark with a cloth moistened with carbon tetrachloride or with turpentine. The grease solvent will remove the wax along with the black, so wax should be applied to the floor after removal.

Only Pinheads of Blood Needed for Analysis

Some blood tests, speedy and life-saving, now can be made by chemistry under the microscope with only a pinhead of blood, and science can look forward to the day when a complete analysis of many components can be made with only one drop of blood. So precise are the tiny instruments used in this micro-chemistry that even in a pinhead-sized dot of blood they can analyze materials weighing less than one microgram—or 1/30,000,000 of an ounce.

It has long been known that the chemical composition of blood changes in disease. But in the early days of blood analysis it took as much as half a pint of blood, for example, for each duplicate sugar analysis in diabetes. Through the years methods were developed until samples as 1/32 to about 3 1/2 thimblefuls of blood could be used. These delicate methods permitted analysis for materials amounting at times to more than 20 micrograms in the specimen.

With these micromethods, the demand grew until in some cases analysis was asked for as many as 30 components in a given blood specimen. If they were to be done in duplicate, such tests might have required as much as 100 to 200 cubic centimeters of blood serum or plasma, representing 300 to 600 cubic centimeters of whole blood. Taking this amount of blood was not desirable, and in most cases the determinations were not undertaken at all, even though the clinical condition warranted it.

Use Water to Flush Oil From Marginal Wells

Since 1936, more than 4,000,000 barrels of oil have been recovered as the result of the injection of about 41,000,000 barrels of water—a ratio of one barrel of oil to 9.66 barrels of water—according to the bureau's report which was prepared by Peter Grandone, petroleum engineer at Bartlesville, Okla., in cooperation with the Kansas state board of health.

The application of secondary-recovery methods is a most valuable conservation measure in that it prevents the premature abandonment of producing properties and also is one of the most promising measures for relief of the present acute shortage of crude oil.

Water-flooding—the introduction of water into formations through some wells to drive the oil toward other wells for pumping to the surface—began on a planned basis in Kansas in 1935 with the passage of a state law authorizing this method of petroleum recovery. By 1936, three initial projects had demonstrated the practicability of the method, and by November, 1942, the practice was being followed in 13 counties.

Remove Honey

As soon as the aster flow is over, which usually is around mid-October the surplus goldenrod and aster honey should be removed promptly from the bees. In many cases the aster honey may not be thoroughly ripened—that is, the honey may be thin because of the high water content. Goldenrod honey, and especially aster honey, granulate rapidly during the cool fall weather and it is important to remove the honey before it granulates in the combs.

In the case of honey in extracting supers, it should be placed in a warm room (85 degrees F.) several hours; it will then extract more easily from the combs. Another word of caution is not amiss in urging beekeepers not to leave such fall honey in storage tanks too long. When the honey has settled in the tanks it should be run out in 60-pound cans. When fall honey starts to granulate in tanks it frequently will granulate solid in three to seven days.

Soap Making

Soaps are usually made by heating or thoroughly emulsifying fats or oils with certain quantities of lye. Glycerin is also formed in the process and may be removed or left in the soap. On account of its value for other purposes it is usually not found in laundry and other less expensive soaps, but is taken out along with natural impurities by dissolving the mixture in water and "salting out." For this, large quantities of common salt are added, which cause the soap to fall out of the solution while the bulk of the impurities, the glycerin, and the salt remain dissolved. It is impracticable, if not impossible, to remove all of these various materials, and therefore soaps always contain at least traces of impurities and often more or less salt.

Onion Storage

For satisfactory home storage over a period of several months, select fully dried onions. Store in a dry place, as humidity may cause onions to rot. Keep at temperatures as near to freezing as possible, but do not let them freeze. Onions store satisfactorily at from 32 to 55 degrees; they may tend to sprout if storage space is too warm. Provide free circulation of air. Never pack closely in a closed container. Spreading-out helps. The pantry or attic is usually superior to the cellar for storing, as cellars are often damp. Spreading on a screen placed overhead in the garage, on the back porch and in like places is suggested if temperatures remain above freezing.

Thomas F. Claxton Enrolls In Marine Service Training

Thomas F. Claxton, son of Mrs. Esie Claxton is now enrolled at the U. S. Maritime Service Training Station in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Claxton is now in the preliminary period of training; during this time he will be given general courses in first aid, firefighting, lifesaving, general seamanship, physical development, mental fitness, etc. Upon completion of his basic training he hopes to enter the Stewards Department where he will receive specialized training in cooking and baking, butchering, pantryman and waiter training, and all practical courses that will prepare him for rating either as a cook and baker or a Messman on board one of the New Ships of our Victory Fleet.

14 JAP SHIPS AND 72 PLANES ARE DESTROYED

The sinking of two additional Japanese men-of-war and 14 other ships and the destruction of 72 Nippon planes by American naval airmen in the northern Philippines was reported Sunday by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

Almost simultaneously Gen. MacArthur, directing the battle of the central Philippines, announced that army fliers sank three small Japanese transport-cargo vessels off northern Sebu as they apparently headed for Leyte island with reinforcements and supplies.

In his communique Monday the general noted that Japanese opposition on Leyte's Ormoc front is steadily decreasing under Yank doughboy pressure.

So far Leyte reinforcement attempts have cost the Japanese some 17,000 soldiers and 30 ships, including 14 escorting war craft.

Reporting on widespread carrier plane raids on Luzon island last Friday Admiral Nimitz said the naval pilots sank four small fast ships, presumably transports, nine cargo vessels, an oiler and two luggers in addition to a destroyer and a previously damaged heavy cruiser. They damaged four cargo ships and an oiler.

The Third Fleet carrier pilots have immobilized some 250 Japanese ships in the waters of Luzon since Sept. 20. The total does not include the 69 Nippon warships sunk or damaged in the second battle of the Philippines sea.

The American raiders Friday shot down 29 planes and destroyed 35 aground. Surface ship gunners bagged eight.

The Japanese claimed, also without confirmation, that their airmen and submarines sank three aircraft carriers, a large cruiser and a destroyer east of Luzon Saturday Tokyo time (Friday U. S. time.)

TOKYO BOMBED AGAIN FROM SAIPAN BASES

Tokyo was bombed again Monday for the fourth time in as many days and while the announcement was made by General Arnold, commander of the air forces in Washington, no estimate of the damage was given.

Tokyo said the damage was slight.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. McKinney of Olney, are with his mother, Mrs. C. M. McKinney, who is in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jim Francis of this city. Mrs. Birdie Dodson of Waco is also with Mrs. McKinney, who is very ill.

Sgt. John Clore is home on furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Clore of Cameron.

Term Employment of Pastors Considered By Presbytery

Term employment of pastors is being considered as a policy by Central Texas Presbytery. The plan, while not adopted, offers some advantages which members of the Presbytery believe will be highly desirable.

It was pointed out that a minister called by a church will be given a definite employment period, subject to renewal. This plan, it was said will enable the ministers to shape their work and at the same time enable the churches to make changes whenever conditions seem to warrant.

John C. Solomon, pastor here, attended the Presbytery in Temple. The Presbytery received Rev. A. B. Byers of El Paso to become pastor at Corsicana. Dismissed Chaplain J. D. Norton to Dallas Presbytery and dismissed Rev. E. C. Williams to Brazos Presbytery.

Mrs. Herbert Haase of Buckholts visited in Cameron Wednesday.

C. J. Anderson of Houston has returned to his home from the Newton Memorial Hospital.

Dick L. Wilson is in the Newton Memorial Hospital for treatment.

John Hopkins Davis At Camp Wolters

Pvt. John Hopkins Davis, husband of Mrs. Grace M. Davis of Cameron, has arrived at Camp Wolters Infantry Replacement Training Center to begin his basic training as an Infantryman. He has been assigned to a battalion stressing rifle training.

Before entering service Pvt. Davis was with Citizens National Bank in Cameron.

Sanders, Shinn and Jarisek, backs, and Peiser and White, linemen, looked best for Taylor.

ON TO TOKYO!

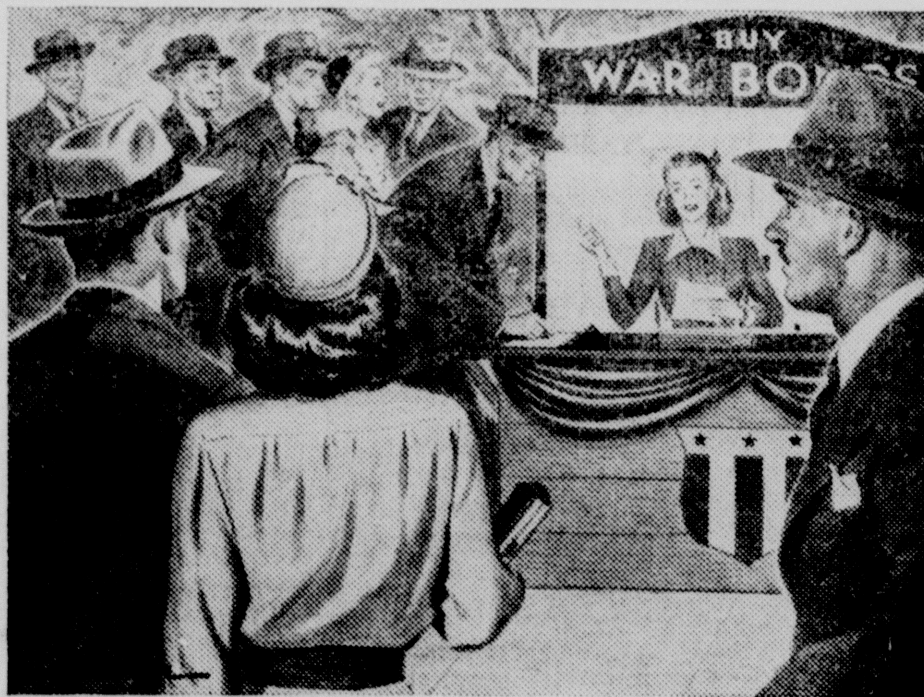

Let's all get behind the greatest march in history—the march to Tokyo—and victory!

On countless invasion fronts, thousands of your fighting men are taking up the battle cry: "On to Tokyo!" We've got to back them up with what it takes for complete victory. Remember, the supply lines in the Pacific are long and your fighting men will need more materiel than was required for the entire European invasion to crush the Jap foe.

Let's Echo That Cry With BONDS!

Our boys won't quit until they've reached their goal. Let's not stop buying Bonds until we've reached ours! In this 6th War Loan Drive, the Nation's goal is $14,000,000,000—our individual job is to buy at least an extra $100 Bond—another and then another—let's keep on going—let's keep on buying—let's keep on saying it with Bonds—"On to Tokyo!"

TWO HOUR DAY LIGHT RAID ON JAP CAPITAL

Tokyo was bombed for two hours Thursday by B-29 super fortress American bombers, it was disclosed by the Air Command under General Arnold in a statement from Washington.

The great ships of the air moved upon the Jap Capital from Saipan and the round flight was 3000 miles. The raid occurred in day light and lasted for 3 hours. The great ships went in waves of 10.

Announcement was made in Washington during the attack or shortly after. The Japs said nothing about the attack for several hours after it occurred.

The Japs said that small fires were started and that 3 of the ships were shot down.

The American statement said that industrial targets were hit.

On the European front General George Patton, second general in history whose army had reduced the Fort of Metz, has been decorated by Gen. Eisenhower for the Capture of the city.

The French have entered Strausburg with their Second and Seventh armies. The Third army, already sacking Metz penetrated some three miles further in Germany. The Nazi were reeling back along all fronts. Fighting was bitter. Rain, fog and snow were hampering operations.

Icing the Cake

Moisture in the air on a damp or rainy day may make icings and other sweets soft and sticky. To offset this tendency, icings and other sirup products need to be cooked slightly longer on damp days.

Furnaces Making Steel

Nearly 1,000 open hearth steel furnaces with capacities from 10 to 400 tons are producing steel for the war. In addition, steel is made in 185 electric arc furnaces, 38 electric induction furnaces, 35 converters and 9 crucible furnaces.

Spanish settlers brought the custom of hailing Christmas with firecrackers and bonfires, a procedure that astounds northerners in Louisiana.

Cadet Clayton Mode Trains at Big Springs

Aviation Cadet Clayton D. Mode has reported for duty at the Big Spring Bombardier School, of the AAF Training Command, it was announced by Col. Ralph C. Rockwood, commanding officer of the school.

A/C Mode is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mode, 504 E. 15th St. Cameron. He is married and his wife's home is in Selman City. He is a graduate of Yoe High School and attended Texas University at Austin. Prior to entering the service he was employed in Duncan Field, San Antonio. Three brothers are also serving in the Armed Forces.

The Big Spring Bombardier School, one of the world's largest bombing colleges, graduates a new class of precision bombardiers every 4 weeks. The intensive 24 weeks course qualifies these airmen for their appointment as officers in the Army Air Forces. They also receive the shiny new wings of rated bombardiers.

Many hours of class room instruction in the use of the famous Norden Bombsight, coupled with weeks of practical bombing over targets on the rolling West Texas range country, have fitted each graduate to become that important member of the combat crew upon whose ability and accuracy rests the success of each bombing mission. His performance in the many theatres of war has already earned him the title of that "hell from heaven" man.

Ladino Clover

Ladino clover, although a valuable crop, is an exacting and tricky one. Because it is different from alfalfa and other clovers in its growth habits, it must be handled differently and given particular care during the grazing season.

By experience, growers have learned that this clover will not stand the continuous grazing which little white clover gets in permanent pastures.

Ladino demands rotation grazing, with ample periods of recovery between grazings. Above all, it needs five or six inches of topgrowth to go into the winter. Dry weather summer and fall restrict the growth of the crop, resulting in more overgrazing at that period than usual.

Glass the Florist Praised For Fine Chrysanthemums

The green house at Glass the Florist now resplendent with gorgeous chrysanthemums, brings comment from visitors to our city. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Glass who built their new florist home and shop to give Cameron a significant development in 1944, have received the following letter from Mrs. Laurence K. Smoot of Austin:

"Dear Unknown Friends:

"I would like for you to know the joy and beauty that your Chrysanthemums give to us passers by. They make the blue, sad thoughts that are constantly in our minds and hearts these trying days vanish for the great desire to appreciate the beautiful things in life.

"I am so glad you have moved your establishment near the highway for I shall get to expect something worthwhile each time I make that corner and I have the pleasure of making it each week.

"Eldon Powell is my favorite flower shop here in Austin. He has beautiful flowers but they do not spring from God's earth here in Texas, and despite make up they show travel. I would like to say again that Glass, the Florist chrysanthemums have given us passers by thoughts and love of beauty that lie too deep for tears. I thank you for all the time, care and money you have put into growing them for I have and do enjoy them greatly."

Restaurant Sanitation

Eighty-one cities of more than 10,000 population and 169 cities of less than 10,000 have adopted a restaurant sanitation ordinance. It is also in effect in 137 counties and has been adopted as state board of health regulations in 18 states. The law can be enforced without local adoption in Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia. There are 144 cities in these states which have not adopted the restaurant code, but in which it may be enforced. Proper restaurant sanitation has been given credit for much of the effectiveness of health measures dealing with war workers.

Bomber Springs

When a four-motor bomber goes into action it relies on more than 1,000 steel springs built into its fuselage, engines and armament.

A policeman is stationed in the shrine of the Princes of Peace—because sects in Bethlehem quarrel among themselves about Christmas, even on a Christmas day.

Pulpwood Uses

Smokeless powder, blood plasma containers, cargo parachutes, aviator vests, shell casings, first-aid kits, and commando bags are a few of the many hundreds of things for which pulpwood is used.

In England, Boxing day—usually December 26—formerly was the day when the old squires distributed Christmas boxes to the help on their estate. It has since become a sort of legalized blackmail—an excuse for delivery boys, the postman and others who have served you during the year to call and collect a tip.

Rudolph Kurtz of Houston transacted business in Cameron recently.

THE WAR ISN'T "OVER" for him..

On crater-filled beaches and battlefields, in grimly fought house-to-house offensives, in foxholes and in bombers over skies riddled with enemy shell-fire, our fighting men are giving everything in the desperate battle for an early peace. There is no talk "over there" of the war being "almost over."

So dig deep, America... and often! Remember, the war isn't over until the last shot has been fired in Berlin and Tokyo. Invest every extra dollar in more and more War Bonds... help put the 6th War Loan over the top... and help bring the boys back home sooner!

Selling War Bonds is one of the many ways in which Texas Power & Light Company is supporting the war effort... over and above its responsibility to keep electric power continuously available for military installations, war industries and civilian needs. Texas Power & Light Company and its employees, in addition to selling War Bonds and Stamps to its customers and other citizens, are also buying War Bonds themselves REGULARLY and OFTEN.

Commercial Forest

Of the 460,000,000 acre commercial forest, private industrial operators own 202,007,000 acres; farmers, 138,812,000 acres. Thus, 340,809,000 acres are privately owned. The rest, 120,000,000 acres, is publicly owned, part being in national and state forests, which are intended for use and which are being used today. Clearly, then, responsibility for future growth rests largely on the shoulders of private owners.

In the total commercial forest, private, as well as public, there is a stockpile of 1,700 billion board feet of saw timber largely available for harvest. There is an immense, but undetermined, additional resource in smaller, growing trees. The United States forest service, in its comprehensive survey of 1936-38, estimated that this forest was producing 11 1/4 billion cubic feet of new wood each year.

Vitamin Losses

From 42 to 56 per cent of vitamin B1 in canned meats is lost during the processing operations, according to findings of Canadian scientists E. J. Reedman and L. Buckby.

It was found possible, however, to fortify the packs with synthetic thiamine to a level equal to, or above, that of raw meats.

Yule Cards Chosen On "Scientific" Basis

A bright high school girl has worked out a scheme for choosing Christmas cards that really seems to fit the recipient. First she figures out the pet likes and hobbies of the people on her list, and puts them down opposite their names—this way:

Auntie Agatha—kittens.
Johnny—ice skating.

This sort of gives her an idea of what kind of pictorial matter they'd like to see on their Christmas cards. Then for the extra special people like Mummie and Dad, and her brother in the Army, and her sister, and the nice pastor of her church, she underlines their names a couple of times which means that they get Christmas "Christmas Greetings to My Pastor."

Then she looks for cards that will cards that say right on them—"Merry Christmas to Mother and Dad", "Hi Sis, It's Christmas" or express her own personality, just as if she had written the verses herself. She thinks its lots of fun reading through the cards, then suddenly-like coming on one that's IT. For example, she said that no matter how darling a card she saw with kittens, she wouldn't send it to Auntie Agatha unless the verse sounded as if she herself had written it.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received during our bereavement at the loss of our dear father.
